CHLS - STUDYING THE TEXT IN CONTEXT
BIBLE LANDS STUDY TRIP: GREECE AND TURKEY

Program Instructors: Jeffrey P. Garcia, Ph.D.

and Jeremy Stein, M.A.

May 27- June 9, 2022

COURSE SYLLABUS

COURSE DESCRIPTION

An onsite field-study experience of the Bible within the physical, historical, and cultural settings of the Greco-Roman world of New Testament Greece and Turkey (biblical Macedonia, Asia Minor, and Greece). Emphasis is placed upon the relationship between physical features of the land, stressing geographical factors affecting settlement communication in the various regions, historical, archeological, and cultural features that shaped this world, its events, and message. Also, the Jewish Diaspora forms a key focus for understanding the spread and growth of the early Jesus movement, particularly through the actions of Paul, Peter, John and their disciples.

OBJECTIVES

1. To introduce students to the geography of the Greco-Roman world and how the geography affected the events related in the New Testament.
2. To introduce students through onsite experiences to relevant archeological data and discoveries and how they relate to our understanding of the world of the New Testament.
3. To understand the historical events of the biblical world and how they impacted ancient Jewish culture as reflected in the New Testament.
4. Through an onsite learning experience, to understand the impact of ancient Jewish culture upon issues of biblical interpretation.
5. To introduce students, through onsite experiences, to the history, religions, and cultures of the Greco-Roman world that shaped and influenced the world in which the Gospel spread.

TEXTBOOKS: Required pre-trip reading

Flattery, Amy and Stein, Jeremy. Experience Turkey: Travel Guide with Site Overviews and Reflections. Springfield, MO: Salubris Resources, 2020. (Provided by the Center for Holy Lands Studies)

Shanks, Hershel. Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism: A Parallel History of their origins and Early Development. Washington, DC: The Biblical Archaeology Society, 2011.

Young, Brad. Paul the Jewish Theologian: A Pharisee among Christians, Jews and Gentiles. Peabody, MA: Hendrickson Publishers, 1997.

BASIC OUTLINE

Prior to the trip, students will read through the book of Acts, the textbooks by Brad Young, and Hershel Shanks as well as the Center for Holy Lands Studies Experience Greece and Experience Turkey books. Once the students arrive in Greece, they will participate in daily site visits and field-studies, lectures, and “hands-on” learning experiences.

METHODOLOGY

Students will gain a basic introduction to the history, archaeology, and culture of the Greco-Roman world and Jewish Diaspora through the assigned pre-trip readings. Students will only need to bring the CHLS Experience Greece and Experience Turkey textbooks with them on the trip.

Once the students arrive in Greece, the backgrounds of geography, history, and culture will be uniquely reinforced through onsite field-studies that incorporate a multi-disciplinary approach utilizing the physical setting to place the biblical text and issues within the spatial, temporal, cultural, and spiritual settings of the biblical world. As part of the students’ in land educational experience, they will participate in a series of lectures specifically designed to take advantage of their time in Greece and Turkey.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- Complete the pre-trip reading assignments.

1. • Write a five-page, double-spaced, reflective essay using the book of Acts, the course textbooks, as well as 5 other external sources on the role of the Culture in either Jewish Diaspora and/or the Roman First Century in assisting the spread of the Gospel in the first century. Paper should reflect the desired writing style of the respective students’ current academic institution. If no writing style is established, it is desired that the student submit their paper in Chicago or Turabian format.

- Due Date: Friday, July 15, 2022

2. • Write a five-page, double-spaced essay using the course textbooks, as well as three other sources on the social, political, and religious challenges the Jewish followers of Jesus faced in spreading the Gospel within the Greco-Roman world in the first century. Paper should reflect the desired writing style of the respective students' current academic institution. If no writing style is established, it is desired that the student submit their paper in Chicago or Turabian format.

- Due Date: Friday July 15, 2022

- Maintain a daily reflection journal (digital or hard copy) throughout the trip in which you reflect upon the teaching and experiences of each day.

- Due Date: May 27, 2021
